

Tuition Fees and Scholarships

Haaga-Helia University of Applied Sciences will charge a tuition fee from a student accepted to a degree programme taught in English. EU/EEA area and Swiss citizens are not subject to the charge. The tuition fee includes teaching and access to the learning facilities and the student Library. As a student at Haaga-Helia University of Applied Sciences you have access to Student Services and ICT services will also be at your disposal to support your studies.

The tuition fees from 1 January 2022 are:

- EUR 9,500.00 per academic year for Bachelor's programmes, and
- EUR 10,500.00 per academic year for Master's degree programme

The updated fees will apply to new degree students starting their studies from 1 January 2022 onwards.

Please note that housing costs, meal plans or health insurance are not included in the tuition fee. So, make sure you have enough financial means to pay your rent, personal expenses, transportation costs, meals, insurance etc.

Finnish immigration service requires that you have at least EUR 560 at your disposal every month to be able to pay for your accommodation, food and other needs. So, in addition to the tuition fee, you must have EUR 6,720 to be able to study in Finland for a year and to get a residence permit in Finland. More information about the income requirement for students is available on the Finnish immigration service's website.

Information regarding tuition fees for existing students

A student should be prepared to pay half of the annual tuition fee before enrolling for attendance for the next academic semester. The tuition fee payments for spring semester are due in November, and the tuition fee payments for autumn semester are due in April.

In case a student cannot pay the required amount of the tuition fee for the semester in one payment due to restrictions in bank transfer system, the tuition fee can be paid in installments. However, the required amount of the tuition fee must be paid by the given deadline. In this case, please contact your Study Advisor.

Students who are required to pay the tuition fee will receive instructions from Study Services via email.

Who does not have to pay the fee?

If you are a citizen of one of the European Union (EU) countries, you do not have to pay tuition fee.

Resident permits in Finland

You are exempted from paying tuition fees if you have one of the following residence permits in Finland:

- EU Blue Card in Finland

- EU residence permit for third-country citizens with long-term residence permit card in Finland (Type P-EU)
- Proof from the Finnish Immigration Services that you have registered, or applied to register, your right of residence in Finland in accordance with the withdrawal agreement (for UK-citizens who have arrived in Finland by 31 December 2020)

Finnish universities and universities of applied sciences make the decision whether you are required to pay fees or not based only on the Finnish Immigration Service's residence permit decision, which is checked from the copy of your residence permit card attached to your application documents.

Haaga-Helia adheres to the national policy, where the exemption from the tuition fee depends on the status of the residence permit on 1 August in the autumn term and 1 January in the spring term. If the residence permit is valid on 1 August, no payment is required for the autumn term. If the residence permit is valid on 1 January, no payment is required for the spring term. If you have applied for a residence permit but have not received the decision by the date when the tuition fee is due, you will have to pay the fee.

Brexit

UK citizens who have arrived in Finland by 31 December 2020, registered their right of residence in accordance with the withdrawal agreement and attached proof of registration to the application form are exempted from paying tuition fees. If you arrive in Finland for the first time after 31 December 2020, you will no longer be able to apply for right of residence under the withdrawal agreement and you liable for tuition fees like other non-EU citizens.
